Listening, presence, and joyful witness to the Earth. Join us to explore and awaken your voice and light, expanding your natural ability to open your ears and heart to explore the subtle energies of music, voice, and spirit diving into the Andean concept of reciprocity (ayni). No previous experience in music or singing is necessary, as we believe that these abilities are innate.

Two nights of ceremony with Sacred Plant teachers

We will go deeply into the mysteries of Andean and Amazonian ceremonial music and practice, and the essential nature of the sacred to enrich your life, to bring strength and insight .. for celebration, meditation, grieving, dancing, questioning, breathing.

Kike will bring his 50+ years of experience – as a composer, charanguista (charango player), guitarist, singer, vientista (flute player), and Paqoruna (one who lives in service to Pachamama). Kike's own original songs are testament to this lifelong path. After decades of study and listening, he now shares and teaches from his wealth of understanding of traditional Andean music. He is considered a living cultural treasure in his native Peru.
